

Haley Nelson

I, Haley Nelson, leave all of the long nights of studying, cramming, and last minute projects to the freshman. I want to leave all the smiles, tears, and bitter sweet memories in my locker 403. I leave all of my laughs and insides jokes from the long band trips to my boyfriend and future band members. Last but not least I leave all my artistic ability to my mother and my sister.

Kara Lane

I, KaraLane, leave my locker 365 to the upcoming freshman. I leave the stress and drama life behind. I take all my memories and laughter with me to cherish the great moments, I had in the four years of being a warrior. I leave lots of thank you to all the teachers who taught me and helped me with succeeding in graduating

Alex (Thunder) Halterman

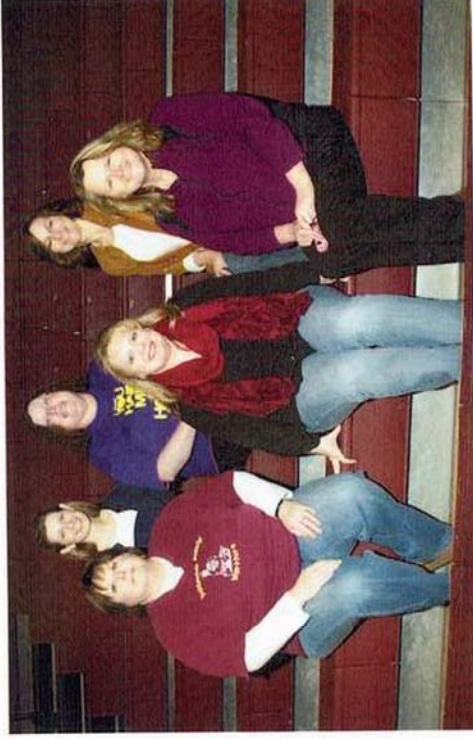

Joe Coy

Emily Fuller

, Emily Fuller, leave all the crazy fun volleyball games to upcoming team. Although I wasn't here for the softball season this year I would like to leave behind first base to Nat Hartzell! Best of luck to both sport cherish the time and memories.

We would like to say thank you to our Class Sponsors for all their hard work and dedication that they have put forth over the last four years. You'll never have a class like ours ever again!

Thank you from the entire Class of 2014!

Marka Kane

leave my senior will to the incoming freshmen. I'm giving the treasure of memories to take pictures from the first day of high school until the day you graduate. Try to capture every moment so you'll have a timeline from start to finish once you graduate. They will show you how fast things change and moments that you will never forget.

Tiffany Rogers

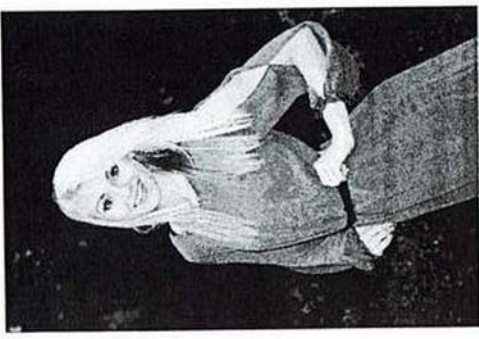

Tiffany Rogers, leave behind all my love, laughs, and lessons learned to one

f the most kind, intelligent women I've ever met.
Mrs. K.

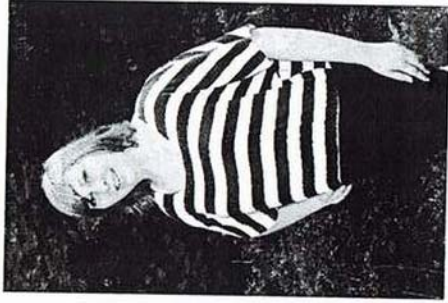

Jennifer Fertig

Nathaniel Langston

Renae Jordan

Clay Friel

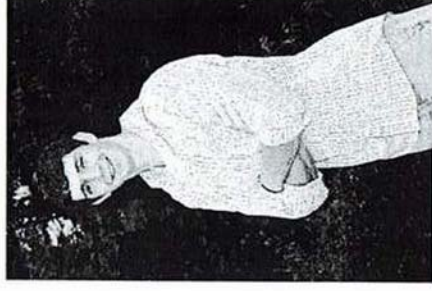

Caleb Arbogast

I leave behind my friends that I have acquired here over the years and also the school.

Andrew Morrison

Judd Walther

Kendra Hubbert

Jessalyn Hamilton

I would like to leave Mrs. Pritt and Mrs. Rao all the memories we have together. You all have given me a lap to sit on (you know you're going to miss your other child Cindy), gum and candy all the time and you have given me a shoulder to cry on and you have brought me sandwiches when I am hungry and you've given me so much advice and helped me so much this year. To Brooke, I leave my bodyguard behind. I don't know how I am going to make it in the real world without you. To Danielle, I leave behind E.T. jokes and my passionate hatred for people rubbing off on you. To Elizabeth and Lyndsee I leave behind eating junk food and drinking sweet tea in gym class everyday Freshman year. To Chyanna and Bethany I leave behind many great cheer-leading memories and jokes.. "Sid the Sloth.", and Chyanna you have given me a shoulder to cry on and so much advice and helped me through so much, I'm so glad we are going to be an hour away from eachother once we graduate! To my brother, I leave you with advice to make the best out of the rest of your high school career. I don't know how I would have got through my high school career without any of you all.

Anson Hatfield

Ida Moyers

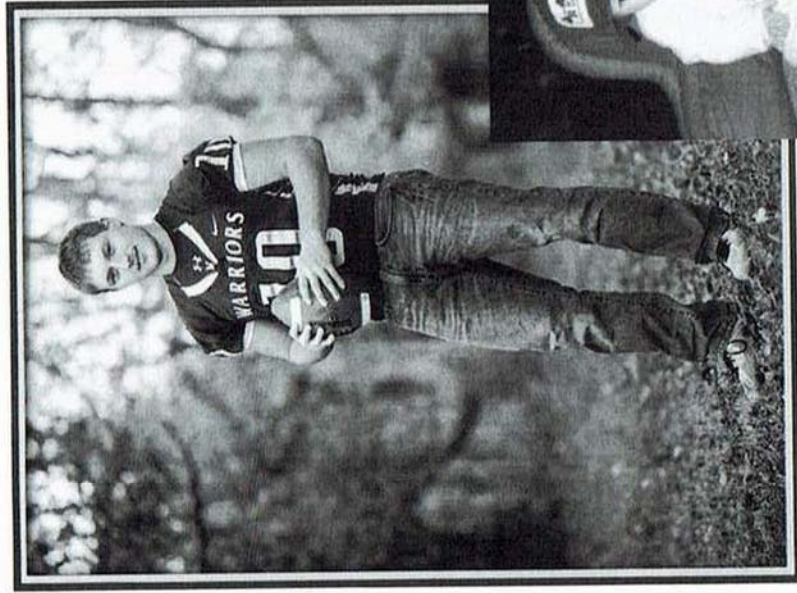

I, Ida Moyers, leave all my school spirit, and locker to Kourtney Cohenour.

Rachel McComb

I, Rachel McComb, leave my locker 293 to the lucky freshman that gets it. I leave the soccer field, and jersey number 5 to anyone willing to play with all their heart.

Devin Rose

Devin Rose, leave my football number to Wyatt Workman. I leave my football locker to Nash Rose.

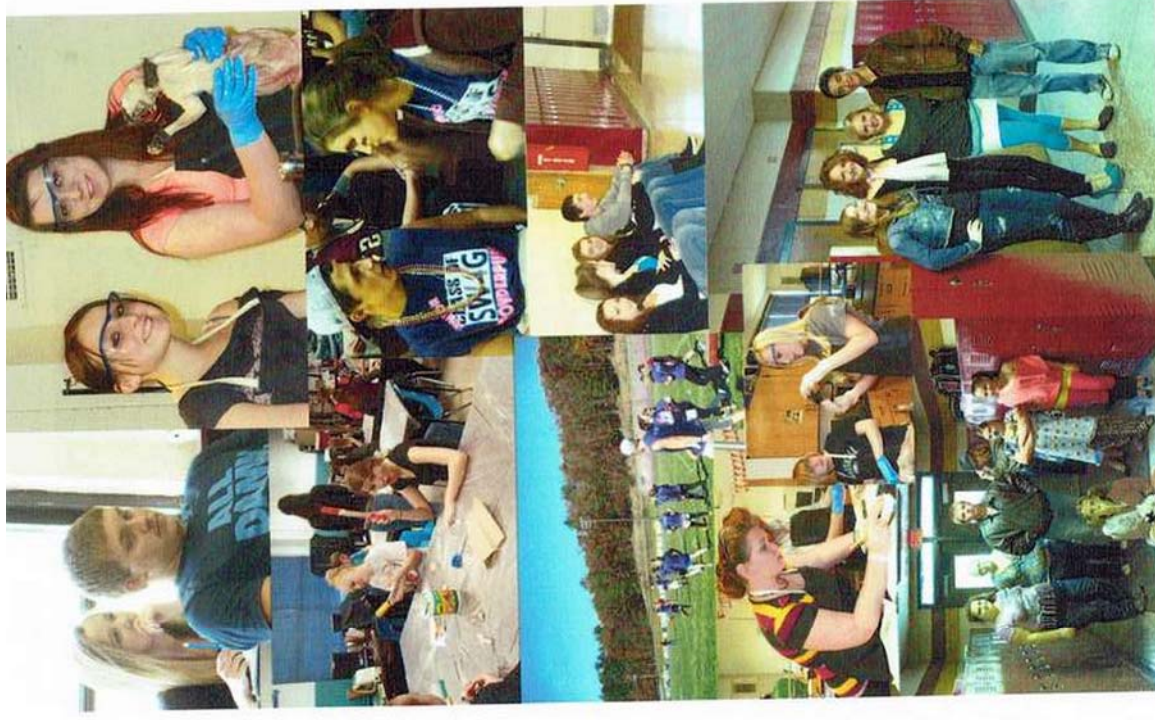

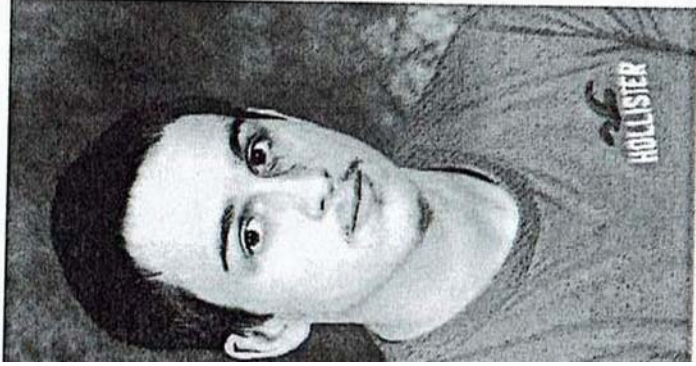

Molly Plaugh

Molly Plaugh, leave my books, locker and frustration from high school to the up coming freshmen.

Hard Smith

Hard Smith, don't really plan on leaving much of anything to anybody.

Brooke Irvine

I, Brooke Irvine, leave my hours at PCHS behind as I continue my journey at Alderson Broaddus University. I leave all my hugs, laughs, and tears with Cindy Pritt and Kim Rao, they've become my second moms and especially stepped in this year when I needed them the most; I love you two to the moon and back! I leave the left hand bottom drawer in the principles desk my snack drawer, to my grandpa, Mr. Sanders. I leave all the gum chewing and singing I had to do 3 years in a row to Senora Minter my first homeroom teacher, and favorite teacher in general! I leave my love for secret love for math with Mrs. Dilley. #lovemath. I leave to Danielle Stuart all our laughs and cries throughout high school may there be many more in college. I leave to Kendra Hubbert my entire sophomore year, god knows there's so many memories to pick out just one! I leave my locker to anyone who can defend themselves to the couple next door. I leave my attitude to a lucky freshman maybe you can handle it better than me. But most importantly I leave my knowledge to all the underclassmen. High school isn't just your parents and teacher nagging at you; it's the foundation for the rest of your life. Go to class, come to school, don't get in trouble every other day it's not cool, and always remember it takes a little extra effort to fly first class!

Lilly Tracy

Lilly Tracy, leave behind my locker #501 and my membership to a lucky freshmen.

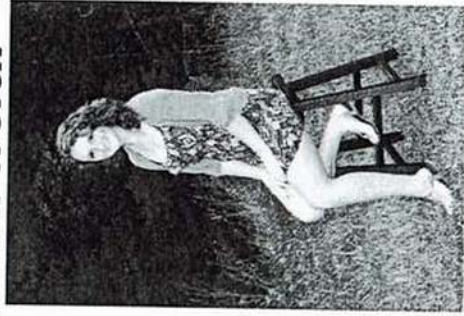

Allie Erlewine

William Sasser

Sarah Worth

Dylan Weatherholt

Shelby Starks

I, Shelby Starks, leave behind the many amazing times on the bus, with Dayla. The great times in my classes.

Senioritis (n.)

A crippling disease that strikes high school seniors.

Symptoms:

laziness, an over-excessive wearing of track pants, and sweatshirts.

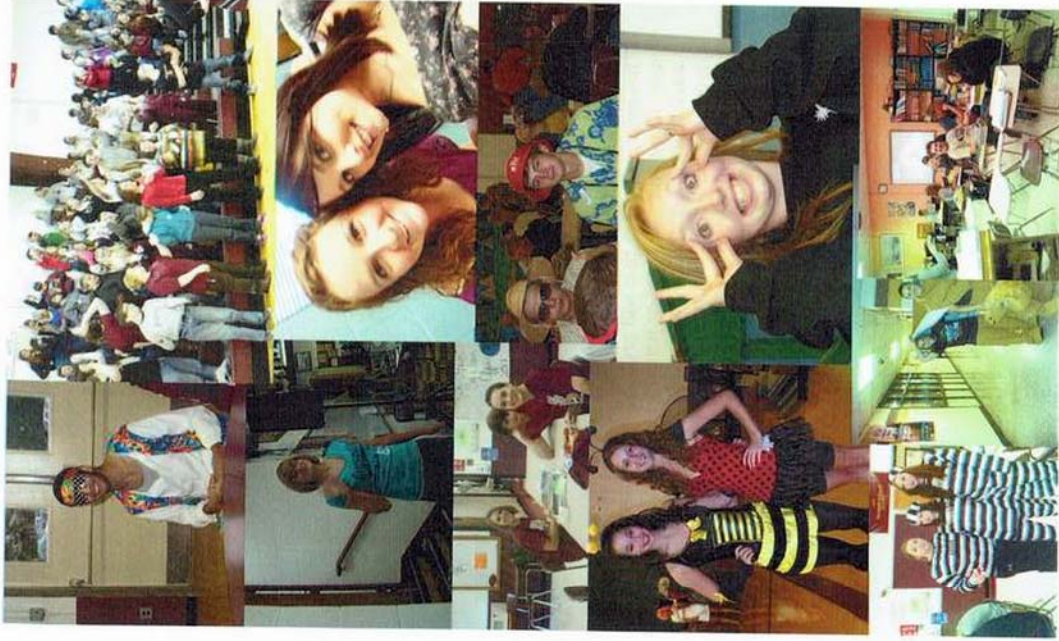

Lack of studying, repeated absences, and a dismissive attitude.

The only known cure is a phenomenon known as Graduation.

Kati Friel

Dustin Dilley

A collage of 15 photographs showing students at various school events. The photos are arranged in a grid-like fashion, with some images rotated 90 degrees clockwise. The events depicted include a pep assembly with students in red and white uniforms, a talent show with students performing on stage, a dance with students in formal wear, and a field trip to a museum or gallery. Other photos show students in casual settings, such as a group of students sitting at a table, a student in a costume, and a student in a striped shirt. The photos are set against a black background with a grid of white lines.

Emily Hefner

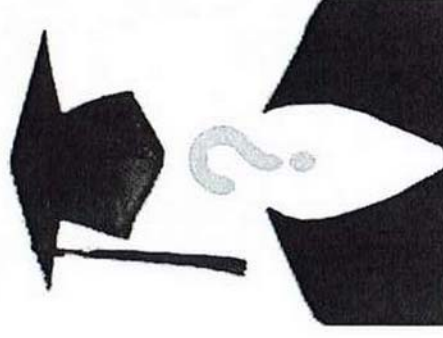

David Hoover

I, Emily Hefner leave behind my locker to anyone who wants it, I didn't make it special. I leave my V President position in the Drama Club, to either Casey Griffith, or Corrine Airgood. Most importantly someone obviously has to take my place as the creeper of the school, but only the one that most worthy of that position may have it.

For all the teachers that I had, I like to leave a little part of me Not sure of what but maybe my laughter in hope it will make them laugh on your bad days. For all my cheer girls, I leave you my silly blonde moments that I had. I leave you with the happy memories and hope that you cherish all the memories you make. Once cheerleading is over you are going to miss it like crazy. For my close friends, you know who you are. I leave you with my cell number so you can always text me! I will always be here for every single one of you. I leave you with my laughter and happy memories. For the most important part, I leave you with knowing that I will always be your friend, no matter what. When we go our separate ways I'll still be here, either I'll be an hour away or even a state away, but I'll always be here for you. For the people that never really got to know me, that's your lose. For all the underclassmen, cherish your memories and just have fun. Don't get into the catty drama, seniors hate that. GOOD LUCK!

My sand bag hackey sac, to whoever can find it. My long hair, to a guy brave enough to wear it. My eccentricity to whoever can handle it without losing their sanity. My work ethic, to no one. I just need a new one. And last but not least my philosophy because no knowledge is power.

Amanda Gibson

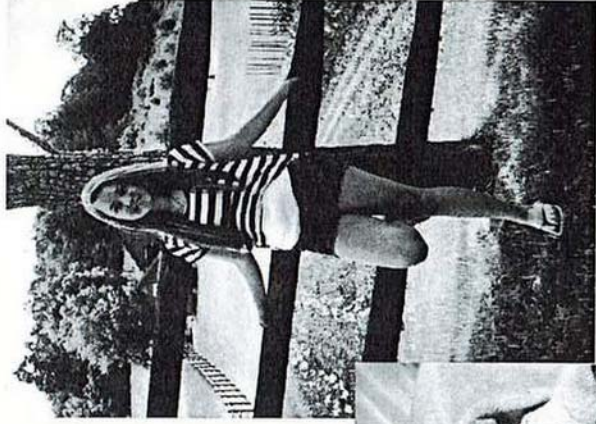

I, Amanda Gibson, leave locker #303 to a lucky freshmen. It has served me well; if you have issues just ask Mr. Gibson for some WD-40. he will fix it for you. To my little sister, Kayla Gibson, I leave her the confidence to be herself and do what she loves. To Danielle Cain, I leave the Pride of Pocahontas Warrior Marching Band Champion Color Guard. Send us your trophy pictures next year! To the next Editor of Warrior Word, you're in for a lot of hard work and hard feelings, but keep going, it's worth it. Save every issue you print now leave PCHS, and I am taking Mrs. VanReenan with me. Catch you on the flipside!

Shannon McClure

I, Shannon McClure, leave my locker to some poor freshman next year that will probably not understand any of the jokes on there or why my neighbor has a mustache on hers. I leave my lunch table to the next group of misfits and underdogs. I leave all the memories I have made to flourish around in that halls, through the halls, and in to the walls for all to sink in and be left to remember forever.

Priscilla Grimes

I, Priscilla Grimes, leave all my underclassmen with the best of luck for the upcoming years. I take the many wonderful memories I have made with me and I leave all of my books and long nights of studying to anyone that is up for the challenge. A big thanks to all the teachers that have helped me make the right decisions through my High School career. And finally I leave the best of luck to any girl that wants to proceed in a man's field. It's hard but keep your head up and follow what you want in life.

Danielle Stuart

I, Danielle Stuart, have never been so ready to leave Pocahontas County High School behind, will to my sister, Ashley Stuart, the strength to deal with the stupidity of the majority of this high school. Also I will behind the "Stuart" name do it right, show PC what a Stuart girl is made of. I leave with Kendra Hubbert many firsts, and all the memories we have made and will continue to make, my life wouldn't be the same without you. I leave behind with Brooke Irvine all the many, many, many adventures from middle to high school, may the adventures continue in high school, watch out AB (: To Cindy I leave behind my love, and missing my beautiful face and the constant question "Is there any food?" To Senora and Mrs. White I leave my up most appreciation for not always listening to the rules and making our hallway! To Silas the bus driver, I leave behind Brooke and I singing "She will be loved" at the top of our lungs, I am sure it will be missed. To Ashlyn, I leave being the best secret keeper. Goodbye PCHS.

Makeia Jonese

I, Makeia Jonese, am eagerly leaving PCHS to begin the life that awaits me, and I will the following:
I leave my locker, which just happens to be in the perfect location, to some lucky freshman that will get to live out of it for the next four years. I know you think graduation may seem forever away, but your four years will be over before you know it! I leave the PIT, the feeling of scoring the winning sectional goal and all my love to my soccer girls! Train hard and enjoy every minute playing the game you love; trust me, it will go by way too fast. I leave to Haley, Emily, and Pippy, our Jot August practices, our birthday shenanigans, and a pep talk before every big game. I leave to Jensen another best friend to always keep you laughing while I'm gone. Next I leave a big thank you and much appreciation to Senora Minter and Mrs. Kesterson for all your help during the last four years. Finally, I wish the best of luck to my fellow classmates. Congratulations, we made it!! Even though this chapter of my is ending, with every ending is just a new beginning.

Bethany Arbogast

I, Bethany Arbogast, I leave all the hours of long hard practices to all the cheerleaders; "even though what we do isn't consider a sport." I leave all the memories to the basketball team as I will never forget all the great summer camps we had together. I leave good ole' second base to Lindsey Hartzell. I leave the motto "Don't ever give up," to all of my teammates, cherish every memory you make because it's all over before your eyes. Last but not least I leave to little Pipster the advice to never give up your dreams, push yourself to do the best at everything you do!! Love ya!
